

We are living some extraordinary times with the COVID 19 Pandemic. All of us at Creel are committed to the health and welfare of our communities, and have therefore been monitoring the impact of the Pandemic on our client's operations, our own operations, and, most importantly, our team.

Based on recommendations and advice of international and local governmental agencies, as well as medical professionals, we have adopted a number of measures to ensure the health and safety of our clients, guests, vendors and staff. Such actions include the cancellation of business travel, the reduction of face-to-face meetings and other in-person events, monitoring personnel health, as well as testing and dry-runs of our remote work protocols, which we are ready to implement as needed.

As always, our Firm will remain steadfast in serving our clients through these complex times.

We hope you and your loved ones are safe. We are convinced that if we all work together as a community, maintain a scientific and factual-based common sense approach, and heed the advice of governmental authorities and the medical community, we will all successfully get through this historic episode.
